enthusiam and sharing.

Introduction

Volume II ushers in the 20th Century of fixed price lists and premium paid lists. This era from 1900 to 1929 will probably be the most difficult period for finding and collecting fixed price lists and premium paid lists. One only has to review periodicals from this period and compare what was advertised versus what has been identified in this volume to realize that this book contains only about 50% of the dealers who produced or started lists during the period.

Last fall I was able to further confirm this belief. While visiting Frank and Laurese Katen last September, I had the opportunity to briefly review Frank's card catalog. This file contains all known auction sales, fixed price lists, periodicals, and other material that Frank has seen over some 40 years of business. Just in my brief review of the fixed price list cards, I came across many dealers and their individual fixed price lists that I do not have and have never seen. This further confirmed my belief that there are many dealers names to add to this listing as well as individual fixed price lists and premium paid lists.

The reason for the small amount of acquired fixed price lists in the hands of collectors today can probably be traced to the fact that many more dealers started and failed during the period from 1900 to 1929 than in the previous 50 years, and that the collectors in general saved only the lists of the more prominent dealers of the time.

Therefore, this book is only the base or beginning to finding all of the material produced. For you the collector of this material, the real hunt can now begin with the challenge of filling in all those missing names and spaces.

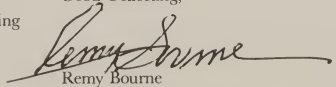

I would like to thank those of you who helped produce this book by providing information for this volume. Your names have been placed in the contributor section as acknowledgement of your help. I would like to especially thank Dan Hamelberg for the large contribution he made to this volume by sending me much material for listing and plating. Thank you Dan.

I would like to thank Pete Smith and Martin Gengerke for their continued support in time and effort by providing their analysis of the contents of these lists for this era. I would also like to thank George Kolbe for his fine forward depicting the value of this material from a Numismatic Literature Dealers point of view.

If any of you wish to contribute a forward for Volume 3 in your area of specialization, I will be more than happy to send the fixed price lists that will be contained in Volume 3 to help you in your analysis. Areas such as Tokens, Foreign, Ancient, and other areas of U.S. Coins could be of deeper interest to those of you who receive the book. Please let me know of your interest to contribute or help in any way.

Work has begun on Volume 3 covering the era of 1930-1939.

Good Collecting,

Remy Bourne

Foreword

In this volume, the author has continued his catalogue of numismatic fixed price and premium paid for lists into the current century. Few have cared before Remy, and his untiring efforts exploring the byways of American numismatic literature have already bourne a bountiful harvest.

Perusing the lists themselves provides insight into the nature of commercial American numismatics in these innocent times. Coin collecting was little more than a harmless hobby and, except for a few, selling coins was not a big, or rarely an exclusive, business. Lists issued by Harrison the Tailor, an early twentieth century Minneapolis dealer, and Charles S. Rybolt, self-described "The Relic Man and Stamp Friend," underscore this assertion.

Then as now, though perceptions have changed greatly, collectors were waiting in line for rarities. Such items infrequently found their way into fixed price lists. Mostly, the lists offer material considered unexciting at the time. They enabled dealers to sell ordinary coins to ordinary collectors.

Virtually all of these fixed price lists were rather modestly produced. Max Mehl's catalogue of the Dr. French collection of large cents is a notable exception, in both appearance and content. Often, the lists do feature important items in fields that were little appreciated at the time. Obsolete currency, tokens, California fractional gold coins and numismatic literature are some examples.

Premium paid for lists, while often of similar appearance, served an opposite function. They provided a source for the material in the fixed price lists at, judging from many of the prices offered, profit margins guaranteed to make the dealer smile.

While B. Max Mehl and Wayte Raymond have provided us with a rich printed legacy of their accomplishments in addition to their fixed price lists, other greats like B. G. Johnson have left little else. Thus, if the lists contain few great coins, they do provide us the only knowledge of many of the numismatic merchants of the past and they offer fertile research in more obscure collecting fields. Indeed, future numismatic historians and bibliophiles will doubtless hold fixed price lists and similar ephemeral publications in far greater esteem than is the case today. Like Emanuel Joseph Attinelli, Remy Bourne is both prophet and pioneer.

Foreword

Remy Bourne has continued his inventory of American numismatic fixed price lists and premium lists. Volume II covers the years 1900 through 1929. Again he has asked me to review the material from the perspective of a copper collector and researcher. Some things I found interesting relate to copper coins. Other areas of interest may only relate to the dealers of the time or the way they did business. I hope that what I found interesting will be of interest to others.

There is a wide range of quality and content found in the price lists of the period. They range from hardbound books to single sheet broadsides. In general terms the quality of the lists had not improved greatly over those produced near the end of the previous century. Most of the lists were undated. A few of the major dealers produced numbered lists that at least provide a sequense of issue. Line drawings were still used instead of photographs. The source of the drawings was not identified. They show up in many different publications. Wherever they came from, they replaced the Crosby drawings that were found in many previous lists.

One of the more extensive lists was The Elder Rare Coin Book published in 1913. It contained premium (buying) lists for American, Canadian, English, Irish and Scotch coins. In addition it contained extensive text on topics such as history of coinage, minting of coins, tokens and private coins, conditions of coins and numismatic terms. Perhaps a third of the book was devoted to line drawings of U.S., Canadian and British coins.

The Guttag Bros. published a buying list Illustrated Coins in 1927. The illustrations were line drawings. The text includes this claim, "We have in stock practically all the coins herein listed." Later it indicated that prices noted were buying prices for coins in uncirculated condition. Here are some examples of what they would pay:

Half Cent 1796 With Pole	$30.00
Half Cent 1796 Without Pole	$30.00
Half Cents 1803 – 1810	.30
Half Cent 1831	$20.00
Half Cents 1836 – 1848	$20.00
Half Cents 1853 – 1857	.15
1793 (Cent) Strawberry Sprig Wreath	$25.00
1799 Over 1798 Fillet Head	$25.00
1799 Fillet	$25.00
Large Cents 1824 – 1829	.30
Large Cents 1830 – 1856	.15

The section on Pioneer Gold was very extensive as was the Colonial Section. The Colonial descriptions include obverse and reverse legends as shown below.

Obv. An axe J. CUT. MY. WAY. THROUGH.
Rev. THE WHEELE GOES ROUND $150.00

1783 Silver. Obv. Eye, thirteen points and stars NOVA CONSTELLATIO * Rev. U.S. 1000 Wreath LIBERTAS. JUSTITIA ..... $500.00 (The 500 and 100 denominations in silver at the same price)

1787 Gold. Obv. Brasher, sun, mountain, water. Rev Eagle 13 stars UNUM * E * PLURIBUS * $1000.00

1792 Silver Center Cent. Obv. Head. LIBERTY PARENT OF SCIENCE AND INDUST. Rev. ONE CENT within wreath UNITED STATES OF AMERICA 1/100 ..... $75.00

1792 Obv. Head LIBERTY PARENT OF SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY. BIRCH on bust Rev. Within Wreath ONE CENT. UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. Edge TO BE ESTEEMED * BE USEFUL $100.00

1792 Obv. Head. LIBERTY Eagle Standing on Globe UNITED STATES OF AMERICA $100.00

Remember the prices offered were for coins in uncirculated condition. The published price was meaningless if the coins did not exist in uncirculated condition or if all known specimens were off the market. It may be unfair to only point out amusing and unrealistic prices. The majority of the list had coins that could be found in the numismatic marketplace. Examples include common varieties of Connecticut Cents at .30 each, Fugios at .25, Massachusetts Half Cents at .75, Massachusetts Cents at .25, New Jersey Cents at .30, Vermont Landscapes at $2.50 and Vermont portraits at .50 each. Buying prices for other Colonials included Talbot Allum and Lee Cents for $1.00, Kentucky Cents for .50, Rosa Americana $1.00, Albany Church Penny .75, London Elephant halfpenny .25, Bar Cent $2.25, and 1721 Colonies Francoises .35.

The Money and Stamp Brokerage Company, Incorporated published The Money and Stamp Manual in both a hardbound and softbound version. Although the hardbound book has 1909 stamped on the spine, it listed prices for coins produced through 1911. It provides an interesting insight into coin buying strategies of the period. The book encourages people to search for old coins:

> "Many a large sum, occasionally a veritable fortune, has been realized by a person who has taken the trouble to overhaul the contents of old trunks, desks or portmanteaus which have lain untouched for generations in attics or elsewhere."

Later the book explained how a person could profit by buying coins from others.

> "Assuming that you are interested, as a vocation or avocation, in collecting rare coins and old postage stamps which you will sell to us at a profit, according to the prices, conditions, etc., given in this volume, we offer you an important aid. Read about it.

We publish a little book called the Bijou Coin and Stamp Premium Guide. It sells at ten cents, is carefully compiled, neatly printed, illustrated and in attractive colored covers.

The Bijou Coin and Stamp Premium Guide contains lists of rare coins and stamps with buying prices. These prices are carefully fixed considerably lower than what we will pay you so that you can buy at the prices named in the Bijou book and resell to the Money & Stamp Brokerage Co. at a fair profit. Of course you can see the advantage of this.

Our name does not appear upon the Bijou Coin and Stamp Premium Guide. Your name and address is to be put on the front cover with a rubber stamp. By using a black ink pad, it will look as if your name had been printed on – i.e. to all appearances, you are the publisher of the book."

In another area of the book it stated, "We do not keep stocks of coins or stamps for retail sale, as we chiefly supply dealers. . ." A multiple level buying network had been created. Collectors could use the Bijou book to buy from local sources. They sold at a profit to the brokerage company for prices listed in The Money and Stamp Manual. The brokerage company resold at a profit to dealers who probably also intended to make a profit.

This book listed prices for various amounts of copies of the Bijou book. People were encouraged to buy multiple copies for resale.

"Employ agents, boys and others to sell the Bijou Coin and Stamp Premium Guide at ten cents per book. You can offer a commission of five cents on every copy so that the agent, by paying you 60 cents per dozen, also earns 60 cents."

"Boys can easily earn one or two dollars weekly after school hours by selling the Bijou Coin and Stamp Guide to storekeepers, conductors, carpenters, workmen and all others who handle money – and who doesn't."

"Yet more important is the fact that you will, by this scheme have the benefit of many pairs of eyes in your locality, all looking for coins and stamps! Thus you can cover a wide field, far greater than if you work alone. Invest in a packet of books and start a profitable enterprise."

The premium list had become a profit making item. There are examples of lists published by one company and overprinted with the name of another company. The Guttag Bros. list mentioned earlier was overprinted with the name of the Coin and Stamp Exchange of Omaha and priced at 75 cents. Bourne has been collecting every fixed price list available and does not have an example of the Bijou book in his collection. Despite the promotion of these for resale, there cannot be many of them that were sold and have survived in numismatic libraries.

The copper coin collector intending to use fixed price lists for research would find that many are of little or no value. Some showed only a general type, date, a grade and a price. There was no indication if these represented real coins in stock. Unplated coins with minimal descriptions are difficult to trace for pedigree research. The dealer may have produced only a single list. For the larger dealers a series of lists will give some indication of the coins they stocked and their importance to the copper coin market. Following are some observations on the lists produced by a few of the significant dealers.

An undated (after 1914) sale by Barney Bluestone featured "A Magnificent Collection" at fixed prices. It had about 300 lots of Large Cents. The 1793's were described according to Crosby numbers, the 1794's were described according to Hayes, 1796 was by Gilbert, 1797 through 1814 by Doughty and 1816 through 1857 was by Andrews. Over 40 lots of Half Cents were described by Gilbert numbers. The expensive coins included a 1799 Large Cent about Extremely Fine for $225 and 1804 described as practically Unc for $175. Common uncirculated middle dates were priced at $2.50 to $4.50. Uncirculated late dates were offered at $1.25 to $2.50. Rare varieties brought better prices.

The William Hesslein catalogues had extensive offerings of Large Cents, Half Cents, Colonials and Hard Times Tokens. However the descriptions were minimal. Common middle date unc Large Cents were .85. Late date uncs were .25 and up. A Franklin Press penny was $1.50 in unc. A Bar Cent was $5.50 in VF. A London Elephant penny in XF was $2.10. A TAL cent was .95 in VF.

Wayte Raymond issued lists from South Norwalk, Connecticut through 1911. His fixed price list No. 8 of 1911 had a good selection of Large Cents and Hard Times Tokens with good descriptions. Some HTT were as low as .35 in Uncirculated. A Low 61 in Very Fine was $20.00. Low 128 was $25.00 in Very Fine. By 1912 The United States Coin Co., Inc. was operating in New York City. List Number Two of 1912 had another good list of HTT which still included some listed in 1911. New listings included Low 96 (R-7) Unc for $100.00; Low 7 (R-6) in copper Unc for $50.00; and Low 146 (R-6) in Very Fine for $50.00.

Elmer Sears offered a good selection of Large Cents with minimal descriptions. One interesting piece was described:

> "1793 Liberty Cap The counterfeit made years ago by Smith of Ann St. NY. Very Fine and very rare 7.50"

Another Sears list had this offer:

"Blank planchet to take the place of 1815 for which year no cents were struck .50."

The St. Louis Stamp and Coin lists had a fair selection of Large Cents and Half Cents with minimal descriptions. The selection of Colonials was poor and Hard Times Tokens worse. The selection and descriptions improved somewhat with later lists. Half Cents from the 1850's were .30 to .50 in Unc. Late Date cents in Unc were .30 up. An 1823 Restrike Cent in Unc was offered at $2.50.

Steigerwalt continued to issue lists into this period. His lists became less regular following an illness and ended with his death March 29, 1912.

I enjoyed the lists produced by Max Mehl. They have a chatty style and different items offered in each list. Mehl may have been the first dealer to take the step from selling to marketing. Out of all the lists I reviewed, he was the only dealer who did not just list coins but promoted them with interesting comments and historical background. He frequently offered bulk lots of Large Cents and starter sets of different dates. One copper bargain was offered in Mehl's Coin Circular of January 1923. It includes my favorite quote of the period:

"I have a lot of 500 large copper cents – poor and holed – I don't know what they are good for. I want five dollars for the lot – you pay the freight. At that price they are cheap enough to throw at cats."

In July, 1922, Mehl offered a 1795 Jefferson Head Cent in VG for $8.50. In December, 1927, he had another Jefferson Head, obverse Good, reverse Poor, for $1.25. His March, 1927 list had a nice selection of middle date Large Cents listed by Andrews numbers. An 1816 A-2 nearly uncirculated was $4.25; an 1818 A-3 in Fine was $4.20; and 1836 described as not in Andrews was $1.25 in Fine; and 1839 over 1836 A-1 was $3.75 in Good. Most were priced under $2.00.

Does an uncirculated 1799 cent exist? Mehl claimed in 1927 that one had sold for $2500. He had one with slightly more wear available at $25. Mehl's list of March 1924 had 41 specimens of 1794 cents. The most expensive was a Hays 41 (S-38) very fair to good at $9.40. A Hays 25 (S-27) good over fair was listed at $4.10. A Hays 46 (S-64) and Hays 47 (S-45) in good were each offered at $2.10.

Mehl produced a numismatic and literary milestone with his fixed price list of the George French collection of Large Cents. This sale is well known among Large Cent collectors and is considered one of the references that should be included in any copper collector's library. The French name shows up on the pedigree of many condition census pieces.

The collection had 832 different specimens and was described as:

> "The Recognized Finest and, as a Whole, Most Complete Collection of Its Kind Ever Formed"

The catalogue is undated but has been reported as issued in 1929. The economic depression which was soon to follow was not a good time to sell coins. It has been reported that the $50,000 paid for the collection was the highest amount paid for a single series of coins. I have not seen an analysis of the success of the sale. It was not an immediate sell-out. Mehl retained some of the coins for sale later. Others were apparently bought and held by T. James Clark who sold them after economic times improved in the 1940's.

The cents of 1794 were to be sold together as a group. There were 69 examples of 1794 including Hays 59 (S-37) incorrectly reported as unique and Hays 60 (NC-3) which is still unique. The French S-37 passed through Sheldon to the ANS collection as an AU-50. The NC-3 also went through Sheldon to ANS as a VG8.

Hundreds of the coins were uncirculated with many described as proof. Lot no. 1 was none less than 1793 Crosby 1-C (S-2) in Uncirculated for $850. Uncirculated 1794's could be had for $125; the 1804 was $400; the 1807 small overdate (S-272) was only an AU55 but still had a price tag of $450. The 1811 in Unc was $150 while 1814 was only $15. An 1818 A-10 and 1820 A-10 were $2.25; most of the rest from 1816 to 1819 were in the $5.50 to $15 range. Some cents from the 20's were a bit more difficult to find in Mint State and were priced in the $25.00 to $40.00 range; The 30's had Uncirculated coins in the $15.00 to $30.00 range; the 40's were $5.00 to $10.00; and prices for the 50's were as low as $1.50 to $2.00.

Sheldon had not yet developed the numerical grading system. The French coins were just called Uncirculated with an occasional added adjective, "beautiful". The prices asked were more than what other dealers were asking. Quality was expensive. The limited success of the sale might indicate that collectors of the time had not yet realized the value found in quality coins.

The dealers of this period include some with a strong place in numismatic history and others who can best be forgotten. Some would already have been forgotten if their published lists had not survived. The Bourne collection provides an historical record for both the important and obscure dealers.

Foreword

As with Remy's first volume on Fixed Price Lists, I'm privileged to say a few words here about the effect of this form of numismatic sales in my field of specialty – Paper Money.

Unfortunately, unlike the period Remy first covered (up to the turn of the Century), the 1900-1929 period was a slow one, with virtually nothing of importance happening in the area of Fixed Price Lists of Paper Money, and even auctions of Paper Money tailing off to nearly nothing.

World War I and the deteriorating economic situation certainly bore some responsibility for this, but far more important was the emergence of a few extremely wealthy collectors who were not only determined to form as complete collections as possible, but knowledgeable enough to do it.

F.C.C. Boyd's Paper Money collection (nearly 50 years in the making) was auctioned by Abe Kosoff in the 1950's. Virgil Brand's currency was slowly dissipated, like much of his numismatic property. Financier Col. Green had a fabulous Paper Money collection that was turned over to the Treasury Dept. (at face value!) to pay his estate taxes. Luckily, the Treasury Department kept the collection intact and it now resides in the Smithsonian. The legendary A.A. Grinnell collection was auctioned in the 1940's by B. Max Mehl and Barney Bluestone. The Norweb currency collection is still intact and has been retained by the family. Dr. Frank Limpert's collection was auctioned by Stack's in the 1950's, and they sold George Walton's collection in the 1960's. James M. Wade's collection is the only one to be sold via Fixed Price List, and was dispersed in the 1950's by Aubrey Bebee.

These great collectors had a few things in common – they were all well known, could afford whatever they wanted, owned, between them, virtually everything known in Paper Money, and, collectively, dominated the Paper Money scene for decades, up into the 1950's. With all this money waiting to be spent, it is not surprising that in this period little was offered by either Fixed Price List or auction. Why go to the expense of cataloging and printing lists if you can sell to the same person immediately, without the expense?

The Paper Money field started to become more open and public in the 1940's, and, as we will see in Remy's future editions, the Fixed Price List came into its own in the 1960's. For now, we can only admire the Herculean efforts of the collecting goliaths mentioned above and patiently await the reemergence of notes not seen for many decades.

STAMP & COIN EXCHANGE
RICHMOND HILL, NEW YORK CITY.

FIRST EDITION

We claim to be the first dealer in stamps in the U. S., for we were dealing in coins in 1860 when the fad for stamps sprang up, and saw the mania for collecting spread for some time confined to exchanging only until money began to be offered for them, then we plunged in.

In 1872 we issued a very complete Catalogue for that time, and among other stamps, bought from a boy two of the 2c Hawaian missionary stamps which we sold to Count Ferrary of Paris at $25 each. One of these was sold last year at auction for over $10,000, the highest price ever paid for one stamp.

This is our first wholesale list, being the accumulated stock of some ten years purchases in one of the best situated stores in New York the rent of which has been quadrupled, so that now in our 80th year we intend to do a mail business at our residence in the suburbs, where we have a fine garden to look out upon as we work at stamps. This is our 30th move, as we preferred a ricketty building liable to be torn down, where we could get more light and show in the street.

We propose to run no risks of losses by mail, receiving no orders except for our Catalogues, for less than $1.00, which should be sent by Money order, and in return we send the goods ordered by Insured or Registered mail.

PRICE LIST

OF

FOR SALE BY

RICHMOND HILL, NEW YORK CITY.

25TH EDITION.

In 1872 we sold to Count Ferrary of Paris, two 2 cent Hawaiian Missionary stamps of 1851 at $25 each, one of which was sold at the auction sale of his collection last year for over $10,000; the highest price ever obtained for one stamp.

We were the first dealer in America to go into the business in 1860, when the trade first began, and the store in Nassau street where we were accumulating our stock for twelve years, has been rented to a jeweler for about four times the amount we paid, so we have moved our stock to our residence in the suburbs which section is called Richmond Hill, but is in the city limits with a population of 75,000.

We do no selling now except by mail, as waiting on customers leaves no time to publish price lists, sort stock, or attend to mail orders.

In all our business the highest we ever sold one stamp for was $300, though we received $1000 for a large Spanish gold coin of 1609.

The room in our house which is devoted to curios looks out on a fine garden of half an acre where we raise fruits flowers and vegetables.

Being an old resident we are one of the few who has any ground except a small back yard, and as buildings are going up around us the sound of hammers clatters all day long.

Vol.	No.	Month	Year	Lots	Pgs.	Code	General Description
							Copies of Shekel for sale

Comments:

ISRAELITISH SHEKEL.

A correct copy and representation of the old Hebrew money current during the lifetime of our Saviour, for "thirty pieces" of which he was betrayed by Judas Iscariot.

On one side is Aaron's Rod, with the inscription "Jerusalem the Holy;" on the other the Incense Cup with the words "Israelitish Shekel."

The meaning of the word Shekel is to weigh,—a Hebrew weight and money (Exodus xxx. 23, 24; Samuel xiv. 26). The word is used to denote the weight of anything, such as iron, hair, spices, &c., &c.; it weighs half an ounce, or four Roman drachms, that is nine pennyweights and three grains; worth 2*s.* 3¾*d.* and a half ditto. Moses and Ezekiel say it was worth twenty oboli, or twenty gerah (Numbers xviii. 16; Ezekiel xlv. 12).

The word Rod is variously used in Scripture, &c., &c., such as the branches of a tree, &c., &c. (Gen. xxx. 37, and in Jeremiah i. 11). The Watchful Rod, according to the Hebrew, is a rod or branch of the almond tree, and it was with a branch or rod of this description that Aaron performed the miracles before Pharaoh.

The Incense Cup was used by the Jews at their feasts.

Matthew xxvii. 3, Acts i. 18 speak of the "thirty pieces of silver;" but Mark and Luke do not mention the sum for which our Saviour was betrayed; they say, that Judas was promised money, viz. silver.

"Thirty pieces of silver" was the price of a slave (Exodus xxi. 32), and it is not unlikely that the Chief Priests, &c., fixed on that sum to shew their contempt of Jesus.—The money usually described as pieces of silver, when the precise sum is not mentioned, is a Shekel: the whole sum therefore for which Judas committed this crime was £3 9*s.* 8½*d.*

SINGLE COPIES OF THE SHEKEL 25 CTS. EACH.

Orders addressed to E. S. SWEET, care of D. D. Sweet & Co. Pawtucket, R. I., or No. 65 Canal Street, Providence, for copies of the Shekel, will be promptly attended to.

These copies or representations of the Shekel are made in England, and are from a coin preserved in London, and are for sale, wholesale and retail, by E. S. Sweet, as above.
